THURSDAY, OCT. 21, 1897.

Ex-President Cleveland's friends modestly admit that he would accept, a United States Senatorship at the hands of New Jersey. It would be fun to see the Ex President on the Senate floor:

The young ladies of Greenville have a club called "Just Among Ourselves" The men are rigidly excluded, and when the society meets at night, the members go to their homes without masculine escorts.

Six hundred geese were driven through the street of Morganfield, Kentucky, the other morning on their way to market," says an exchange, but that was nothing to the scenes one may behold in any city on election days, adds the Greenville News.

The Anderson Intelligencer came out in new and improved form last week, showing the spirit of enterprise possessed by Messrs. Olincales & Langston. The Intelligencer is already one of the best papers published in the State and its change will make it all the more popular.

Mr. S Frank Parrott, of Darlington, a graduate of the South Carolina college in the class of 1897, is now doing the editorial work on the Independent Republic, of Conway. Already the Republic shows the improvement that is bound to follow as a result of Mr. Parrott's writings.

A whole cemetery was sold at auction in Atlanta. It was knocked down to the highest bidder under foreclosure proceedings in favor of creditors. The city of the dead, Hollywood by name, brought $10,200, being purchased by the First National Bank of Gainesville.

The city council of Aiken has imposed a license of $500 on original package stores. Only one so far has been opened in that city, and the Journal and Review says that Mr. Warneke, the agent, will take out a license for three months. What are the other town and city authorities going to do about it? If one is made to pay a license all should pay.

Elections will be held in November in the states of Kentucky, Virginia, New York, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Nebraska and Massachusetts. Of these, four, Massachusetts, Ohio, Iowa and Virginia will elect governors, while the others will elect various state house and judiciary officials. In the late presidential election Kentucky was carried by the republicans.

Associate Justice Stephen J. Field of the United States Supreme court has sent in his resignation to President McKinley, to take effect Dec. 1st. Justice Field was appointed by President Lincoln in 1863 and has therefore served over 34 years on the bench—longer than any other member of that tribunal. It is said that President McKinley will appoint Attorney-General McKenna to succeed Justice Field.

Ex-United States Senator Robertson died at his home in Columbia Wednesday. For about thirty years passed he has been a sufferer from a species of paralysis. He held the office of United States Senator for two terms and was succeeded by Gen. M. C. Butler. He died quite a wealthy man.

"The Lantern" is a new paper just launched at Chester, with J T Bigham as editor. One cannot read Mr. Bigham's article without knowing that this is not his maiden effort with an editorial pen. Bright, spiky and well printed, the Lantern will no doubt shed its illuminating rays into Chester's dark corners for many weeks to come and in its work it has the best wishes of the Record.

For many years the distribution of garden seeds in the United States has been looked upon as one of the most peculiar functions of statesmanship. In this way some of our national lawmakers have not only managed to keep in touch with their constituents, but what is even more surprising, they have managed by this judicious scattering of seeds to reap sufficient votes to compass their re-election. The magnitude of this patriotic industry is set forth in a tabulated statement recently issued by the Agricultural Department at Washington, D.C. From this statement several interesting figures may be extracted. Of flower seed there were 1,012,500 packages distributed during the year at a cost of $7,809.62 to the government; of raddish seed, 2,161,278 packages costing $12,607.35; of beet seed, 2,147,062 packages costing $12,552.16; of cabbage seed 2,130,418 packages, costing $12,454.88; of tomato seed, 2,119,942 packages, costing $12,346.76; and of turnip seed, 2,130,418 packages, costing $12,291. In like quantities other popular garden seeds were distributed during the year, making a total of 19,053,839 packages sent out by the agricultural department at a cost to the government of $110,987.44. Undoubtedly the government's liberality in this respect may accomplish some good, but whether or not the vast sum of money yearly expended by Congress in the distribution of garden seeds is prompted by the wisest statesmanship may be gravely questioned.

A Wonderful Discovery.
The last quarter of a century records many wonderful discoveries in medicine, but none that have accomplished more for humanity than that sterling old household remedy, Brown's Iron Bitters. It seems to contain the very elements of good health, and neither man, woman or child can take it without deriving the greatest benefit. Brown's Iron Bitters is sold by all dealers.

The oldest medical recipe is said by a French medical journal to be that of a hair tonic for an Egyptian queen. It is dated 400 B. C., and directs that dogs' paws and asses' hoofs be boiled with dates in oil.

Fifty Years Ago.

This is the way it was bound to look when grandfather had his "pictur' took." These were the shadows cast before the coming of Conjuror Daguerre and his art; like a girl in a pinafore some day to bloom to a goddess fair. Men certainly were not as black, we know as they pictured them, 50 years ago.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

began to make new men, just as the new pictures of men began to be made. Thousands of people fronted the camera with skins made clean from blotch and blemish, because they had purified the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is as powerful now as then. Its record proves it. Others imitate the remedy; they can't imitate the record:

50 Years of Cures.

A Georgian was killed by a circular saw, and in his obituary notice it was stated that he was "a good citizen, an upright man and an ardent patriot, but of limited information with regard to circular saws."

A lady who spent some time in the Klondike says that some days were so warm that she found a shirt waist sufficient protection. Let us blushing hope she was misquoted - Denver Post.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passager. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggist, price fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail. Mention The County Record and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.
